

Marriage to be performed in Switzerland: Information for residents in Tuvalu

14.04.2022

If you would like to get married in Switzerland, you will need to go through a marriage preparation process.

The fiancées have to contact the competent civil registry office in the city where they would like to solemnise their marriage. Please contact the officer directly and well in advance in order to obtain information regarding the requirements, dates, fees, witnesses and translation of civil status documents.

If you are living in the Consular jurisdiction of this Embassy, it is mandatory that you present yourself in person at the Embassy of Switzerland in Wellington to submit your documents. Please contact the Embassy in order to make an appointment.

If one of the fiancés/partners is living in Switzerland, he or she will have to sign these documents at the civil Registry office there. The civil registry office in Switzerland in the town or city where the marriage will take place is solely responsible for specifying and processing the required documents. It may require some additional documents not mentioned below. The arrangements to schedule the date must be done directly with that office. Please note that English is not one of the official Swiss languages (German, French and Italian). The procedures may also vary from one Canton (State) to another.
